Bringing Expertise and Innovation to Commodity and Energy Markets With the Cloud

With 30+ years of experience, Morningstar Commodity provides trusted data management solutions and actionable information to clients in the energy, commodities, and financial sectors.

Accomplish more with our cloud-based software. Our clients access and analyze market and proprietary data to make better investment decisions and facilitate collaboration. Traders, risk managers, analysts, and executives look to the Marketplace suite of solutions to power their firms and take action with confidence.

Intuitive and Scalable Products Tailored to Your Business Needs

Our commitment to powerful, secure hosted solutions provides significant performance benefits and IT cost savings for our clients.

Publisher & Scheduler

Seamless data integration with on-demand data file generation. Our Marketplace tools deliver the most up-to-date data feeds and user specific data into a clear UI. Publisher can feed into any ETRM or CTRM and, with Scheduler, operate on automated schedules.

Web Services & APIs

Accelerating rapid data access. Our Web Services' REST APIs pull directly from our data library, providing flexible ways to download and upload market and proprietary data, read and write to local systems with configurable output, and leverage powerful insights.

Research

Cultivating meaningful insights to interpret industry trends. Research helps users navigate volatile markets to make more informed decisions about energy and commodities and improve returns. Written by seasoned experts, our thought leadership helps our clients stay informed.

Add-In

Consolidating and analyzing data for customizable visualization. The Add-In helps users analyze market, real-time and proprietary data, alongside rigorous quality checks, in Microsoft Excel.

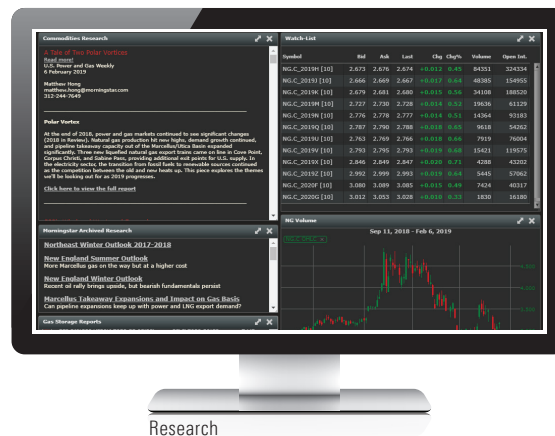

Workflow Manager

Facilitating customized data derivation. Our Workflow tool automates calculations, performing customizable functions, like forward curves, to refine data with proprietary business logic.

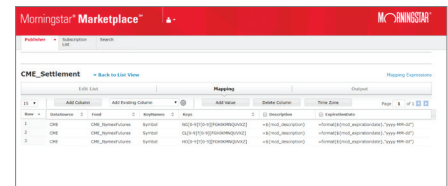

Markets

Illustrating relevant markets. Markets monitors data and news while delivering customized data configurations on a real-time or historical basis, saving time on crucial business decisions.

The Marketplace suite funnels real-time, historical, and proprietary data into our products for easy access of the most up-to-date trends and industry insights that can be applied to the commodity and energy sectors. Marketplace Publisher, Markets, and Research are just a few ways to access our data.

Our Clients Drive our Products Forward

Straightforward Pricing Model

We create great products based on our clients ever-evolving needs. To provide the highest value to our clients, we offer a straightforward, easy-to-understand pricing model. We work closely with you to understand individual needs and tailor our solutions to you while staying cost effective.

Dedicated Product Support and Service

Our support team operates 24/7, providing high-touch, friendly customer service to 200+ commodities, energy, and financial firms worldwide. You can rely on a team of subject matter experts and dedicated relationship managers to help you make the most of your resources.

Our Independent Research

We consider understanding the direction and volatility of the markets to be just as important as leveraging data to invest in the best opportunities. Equip your team with our independent thought leadership and research in tandem with our exhaustive data library to familiarize yourself with industry trends and to maintain a headstart in selecting lucrative opportunities that provide competitive advantages for you.

Worldwide Reach

We conduct our operations outside of the United States through wholly owned or majority-owned subsidiaries.

Morningstar, Inc. is a leading provider of independent investment research in North America, Europe, Australia, and Asia. We provide data on more than 615,000 investment offerings, including stocks, mutual funds, and similar vehicles along with real-time global market data on at least 18.5 million equities, indexes, futures, options, commodities, and metals, in addition to foreign exchange and Treasury markets.

Hosted Solutions and Uncompromised Security

Cloud-based Products

Our commitment to powerful hosted solutions provides significant performance benefits and IT cost savings for our clients. With our cloud-based products, firms can benefit from zero-in house server storage and application requirements.

SOC1 Designation

We adhere to the highest operational requirements and best security standards. With our SOC1 designation, you can be confident that your proprietary data and models are secure and auditable. SOC Reports is an independent third-party examination that ensures Morningstar has adequate controls in place to comply with SSAE 16 policies and procedures.
